

Traditional Khmer Boxing

Siem Reap's first kickboxing stadium opened in March 2013. This 700-seater Arena hosts tournaments featuring fighters from all over the world. Every Wednesday the show is even broadcasted live on Cambodian Television Network (CTN).

The Arena is also host for the famous martial art Bokator. History indicates that Bokator was the quarter combat system used by the ancient armies of Angkor, and it may be the predecessor of all Southeast Asian kickboxing styles.
